1. Japanese patent application (Kokai) publication no. 2002-236763 entitled "Information Utilization System, Portable Terminal and Register Terminal" - discloses how map information, to which usage permission position information corresponds, is transmitted to a portable terminal. The received map information is erased when it is judged that the portable terminal does not belong to an effective range which is specified by received usage permission position information. The relevance of this document is also discussed at pages 1-2 of the specification of the present application.

2. Japanese patent application (Kokai) publication no. 2002-24273 entitled "Information Communication System" - discloses how additional information is tagged to the information to be provided and then sent to receiving equipment. The received information is always checked whether or not it meets the erasure conditions previously set in the receiving equipment, so that only necessary information is left in the receiving equipment. The relevance of this document is also discussed at pages 2-3 of the specification of the present application.

This submission does not represent that a search has been made or that no better art exists and does not constitute an admission that each or all of the listed documents are material or constitute "prior art." If the Examiner applies any of the documents as prior art against any claim in the application and applicant determines that the cited documents do not constitute "prior art" under United States law, applicant reserves the right to present to the Office the relevant facts and law regarding the appropriate status of such documents. Applicant further reserves the right to take appropriate action to establish the patentability of the disclosed invention over the listed documents, should one or more of the documents be applied against the claims of the present application.

If there is any fee due in connection with the filing of this Statement, please charge the fee to our Deposit Account No. 06-0916.

Respectfully submitted,
